Position Description:
The CEW program addresses educational inequity and disparities in Portland by working in partnership with Native families who have children 6 years old and younger. This is a program that is using a nationally known model of community health workers with extra training and emphasis on early childhood development. The CEW program is a collaboration of culturally specific organizations (NAYA, IRCO, Latino Network, and Urban League) serving 5 underserved communities in our area, these include: Native American, Latino, African American, Somali Refugees and Zomi Refugees. The CEWs connect families to the community and resources to help address stability barriers they may be facing. The CEW’s promote parent involvement in their children’s education by providing family empowerment groups and child socializations at schools the families’ children attend so that families feel connected to their local schools. Moving forward the CEW program works to motivate families and communities to come together working towards system change within school systems and community organizations. The CEW Program is Working to influence systems and organizations to know how to better serve the most vulnerable and at-risk populations. Duties include performing home visits, coordinating parent-child playgroups and activities, connecting with wraparound resources, educational advocacy, and supporting community leadership development opportunities. This is primarily a field work position (90%), with the balance of time spent performing administrative tasks.
Essential Functions:

- Serving 40 families per CEW per year through one-on-one visits, parent-child groups, classes, and events, and providing developmental screenings for children prenatal through five.
- Conducting not less than two ASQ screenings per month and conducting two ASQ screenings per enrolled child per year (at least one every six months). This is for children ages infant through five years old.
- Support parents and/or caregivers in preparing their children for Kindergarten by providing support, individual education about healthy development, child screenings, and wraparound services to assist families in addressing the social determinants of health.
- Conduct home visits with families and provide tools for increasing Kindergarten readiness, such as books and specific educational activities (which include, but are not limited to: curriculum on inexpensive activities, physical wellness and nutrition, parent and child stress management, brain development and attachment, and school advocacy skills).
- Plan and facilitate ten to twelve (10-12) weeklong series of culturally specific parent-child groups for parents and/or caregivers of children from birth to age six.
- Work collaboratively with SUN School Site Managers at each anchor school to bridge the gap between isolated families and their neighborhood schools.
- Connect parents to school activities, staff, and opportunities for participation in events and groups held at their neighborhood school.
- Attend monthly steering team meetings to provide input into the continued development of a community education model that is effective in all the identified cultural communities.

Additional Duties:

- Other duties as assigned by Foster Care Services Manager.
- Additional Community Education Advocate Duties:
  - Attend quarterly Community Education Advocates Community of Practice for continued professional development and support.

- Additional NAYA Family Center Duties:
  - Understand and adhere to confidentiality.
  - Coordinate wraparound services effectively with other NAYA Family Center programs and staff.
  - Input data, and maintain NAYA and/or contractually required information database systems to track client information.
    - Includes entering client data, assisting and/or preparing periodic reports.
    - Database examples include but are not limited to: Efforts to Outcome (ETO), Counselor Max, SAGE Fund Accounting, Raisers Edge, etc.
  - Participate in trainings and/or meetings to ensure program outcomes are achieved.
  - Represent NAYA with the utmost professionalism at community events and other public relations opportunities.
  - Work as an active member of departmental team.
  - Participate actively in cross-departmental team projects.
  - Contribute to fostering a safe and secure environment for community members and staff.
